

VICKI COTTLE NAGEL

Vicki was born in Colby, a crossroad's town in Kansas.

The family picked fruit, ran a grocery store, and house-sat while emigrating from Colorado to the Golden State during the early part of the Great Depression.

It was in Sacramento's public schools that she learned to love the adventure of reading and the excitement of the theater.

After graduating from UCLA, she married Don Nagel, an actor and stunt man, who was perhaps best known for working with Ed Wood in many a strange film.

Vicki taught English Theater Arts for thirty-eight years.

Her retirement has been filled with volunteer work, travel, and honing her writing skills
